EQUITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSIVITY POLICY

EQUITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSIVITY POLICY

We've renamed our policy to include the word equity, instead of focusing on equality alone.

As an organisation that promotes equal opportunities, Baily Garner is committed to providing services and following practices which are free from unfair or unlawful discrimination.

We believe that equity promotes fairness by treating people differently dependent on their needs, where as equality promotes fairness by treating everyone the same. By putting equity at the forefront, we're recognising how important it is to offer varying levels of support, depending on the need, to achieve greater fairness of outcomes.

The purpose of this policy is to make sure that future applicants and existing colleagues do not receive less favourable treatment under the nine protected characteristics in the Equality Act 2010:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Pregnancy or maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex or sexual orientation.

It is also in place to make sure that no one is disadvantaged by conditions or requirements which cannot be shown to be relevant to performance.

Finally, it also seeks to make sure that no person is victimised or subjected to any form of bullying or harassment.

We promote a positive, inclusive working environment where there is respect for, and appreciation of the diversity of everyone in the practice and the wider community.

We value people as individuals with diverse opinions, cultures, lifestyles and circumstances. It is our peoples' contribution that is important and not how they came to be or what and who they are. We want to maximise the contribution everyone can make to the business and focus on accepting everyone for their individual value regardless of their choice of lifestyle, geographic origin, length of time with the organisation, management or nonmanagement status.

All employees and partners are covered by this policy, and it applies to all areas of employment including recruitment, selection, training, deployment, career development, and promotion. These areas are monitored, and policies and practices are amended if necessary to make sure that no unfair or unlawful discrimination, intentional, unintentional, direct or indirect, overt or latent exists.

The Management Group has responsibility for implementing and monitoring the Equity, Diversity and Inclusivity policy and, as part of this process, all personnel policies and procedures are administered with the objective of promoting equity of opportunity and eliminating unfair or unlawful discrimination.

All employees, partners, workers, or self-employed contractors whether part time, full time or temporary, will be treated fairly and with respect. Selection for employment, promotion, training, or any other benefit will be based on aptitude and ability. All employees will be helped and encouraged to develop their full potential and the talents and resources of the workforce will be fully utilised to maximise the efficiency of the practice.

Equality of opportunity, valuing diversity and compliance with the law is to the benefit of all individuals in our practice as it seeks to develop the skills and abilities of its people. While specific responsibility for eliminating discrimination and providing equality of opportunity lies with managers and supervisors, individuals at all levels have a responsibility to treat others with dignity and respect. The personal commitment of every employee to this policy and application of its principles are essential to eliminate discrimination and provide equality throughout the practice.

UNCONSCIOUS BIAS

The practice recognises the dangers of unconscious bias arising at work, which is where an opinion is formed on an individual by a manager or colleague without them necessarily being aware they have formed it.

EQUITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSIVITY POLICY

There are many different forms of unconscious bias, ranging from an affinity towards those of a similar background to placing too much significance on what has been identified as a negative trait.

As a society unconscious bias exists, as a practice we will provide awareness training to all our staff and partners to challenge and address all forms of unconscious bias in all decisions taken for employment, including recruitment, promotion, and training opportunities, with a focus on promoting diversity and inclusion.
